

THANK YOU SO MUCH!

I want to express my gratitude for taking the time to download our PB&J Days Media Kit. What initially began as a personal challenge has evolved into something much deeper.

Throughout my involvement in church, I never saw myself as part of the "outreach" efforts, often leaving it to those who felt a specific calling or had a particular gift or passion for it. While I did occasionally volunteer, it wasn't a significant part of my routine.

However, the experience of serving countless homeless individuals in my community with just 84 PB&J sandwiches sparked something profound within me. Often, those whom Jesus referred to as "the least of His brothers and sisters" in Matthew 25:31-46 remain invisible to many. Yet, by simply taking the time to serve them, I discovered a desire to do more.

I was amazed at how far 20 dollars could go in making those sandwiches – it seemed like such a small investment for such a significant impact. This revelation was too powerful to keep to myself; I felt compelled to share it. I wanted to leverage my time, talents, and resources to shed light on the often-overlooked members of our society and inspire others, regardless of the scale of their contributions, to join in this mission.

The media kit contains videos and images you can share with your friends, family, and church. I intentionally omitted any mention of my church or ministry. I aim to shift the focus away from myself and our congregation towards those who are most vulnerable in our society.

As you share these videos within your circles, I pray they ignite a passion for serving the local community and beyond. This is our chance to embody the spirit of Matthew 25, and my prayer is that, through our collective efforts, we bring glory to God and introduce many to the profound and unwavering love of God.

Should you have any questions, or concerns, or wish to contribute further, please don't hesitate to reach out to me at spread@pbandjdays.com.

Your friend in Christ,

Hamp Lee III